
MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT

ONE PLANET is committed to making the best equipment, the right way.

ONE PLANET specialises in designing, manufacturing and marketing technical outdoor equipment for use throughout Australia and the world. We recognise our responsibility to uphold and protect the human rights of all people working for our organisation, both directly and indirectly.

ONE PLANET will not tolerate any abuse of human rights in our business or supply chain.

The Australian Government's Modern Slavery Act 2018 requires some entities to report on the risks of modern slavery in their operations and supply chains, and to take actions towards addressing those risks.

The ONE PLANET head office and primary manufacturing facility is in Melbourne, Australia. Additionally, we produce goods with our manufacturing partners internationally, and purchase components from suppliers across the globe.

In our Melbourne facility we uphold our Standard of Manufacturing. We work closely with our international partners to ensure they understand these standards and are committed to maintaining them. We continuously assess our supply chain, making regular personal visits and completing social accountability audits. Our preferred audits are the BSCI (Business Social Compliance Initiative) and SLC (Social Labor and convergence).

In Melbourne we specialise in manufacturing rucksacks, travel luggage, rainwear, gaiters, duffles and accessories, and also fill and finish our down sleeping bags. Internationally we manufacture tents, synthetic sleeping bags, sleeping bag componentry, warm wear and shoes.

- Melbourne facility: meets and exceeds all Australian legal requirements
- Boots and shoes partner: meets and passes the BSCI certification
- Tents and shelters partner: meets and passes the SLC certification
- Sleeping bags partner: meets and passes the BSCI certification
- Fleece apparel partner: meets and passes the BSCI certification

Andrew King
Director